Scheduling & Logistics

- If possible, consider scheduling a break right after Curtis' presentation. It helps facilitate that high-energy scrum at the front of the room for people who want to say "hey," ask questions, and share their epiphanies. Plus, you get break-time conversations for people to discuss their learning.
- Because travel delays happen, Curtis prefers to arrive the night before. Please arrange or recommend a hotel either at the venue or closer to the airport than the venue itself. Please book a non-smoking room on a high floor with late checkout guaranteed.

Slides & Handouts

- Please note Curtis doesn't convert his slides to anyone's templates. Because templates aren't enthusiastic, Curtis' presentation slides are designed to graphically supplement his verbal content and don't mirror the words in her speech.
- Curtis' full slide deck is unavailable for download as notes or a handout. However, if you need an outline of the presentation for educational certification requirements, one can be provided on the day of the session.
- Curtis owns and retains all rights to his materials and content. They cannot be reproduced or distributed. Recordings & Photos
- Feel free to take as many flash photos as you'd like before the talk, but please do not flash during the presentation.
- You agree that Curtis and his team have the right to photograph the session, as well, and use the photos online or in print.
- If we've agreed to permit session recording, plan ample time to test sound pick-up and verify that the sound patch doesn't interfere with the projection-output quality (sometimes an issue).
- Unless we agree to work it out, you don't have the ability or right to record and then resell or distribute Curtis' talk.
